A Thousand Stories. An Art Auction to Change Lives.

Charity Auction for

Māpura Studios

Māpura Studios supports people at all stages of life who suffer from neurological disorders, stroke, disability, mental health and other invisible conditions. Māpura changes lives using creativity and art therapy because hope goes beyond words. Everybody knows someone who has suffered and everybody has a story to tell.

Please support this charity art auction to raise funds for Māpura's work, and to support our artists now and in the future. Your story could well be part of our story.

Introduction

Words by John Gow

When I was approached by Brian Barnett, who was representing Mapura Studios, it was an old school colleague reaching out, looking for some expertise in the art world. Brian met with me, we talked about Cambridge High School, various friends and laughed about old memories. Next came the request for help to raise funds for Mapura studios. Brian explained that through the visual arts, Mapura helped recovering stroke patients, handicapped people and those in need of regaining confidence and basic motor skills through making art. He invited me to come and view their Mt Albert studio.

When I arrived I walked into a hive of activity. Talking, music and the act of making art all taking place with helpers and care givers exuding love and encouragement to the students. I found the scene both a wonderful place of creation and also very challenging. My overriding thoughts were - there but by the grace of god go any of us - and here are these amazing people doing good work to help those who have suffered some form of incapacitating ill health.

I turned to Brian and Diane and said what do you need me to do. Brian expressed how impressed he was with the previous fund raising efforts that Gow Langsford had been associated with, the John Crawford City Mission event and the funds raised through our artists for Clare McLintock. I said we have a policy of supporting one charity and doing as good a job as possible to make it a success. This has brought us to today and the catalogue of works on offer. Not only can you buy a high quality artwork but you can help support a very worthy cause.

Many of the works offered in this catalogue are by New Zealand's leading contemporary artists. They are donating their artworks, time and effort in order to support Mapura Studios and those that benefit from their programmes. We hope you will feel the same by purchasing one of these fine works when they are auctioned by Ben Plumbly of Art and Object on the evening of the 21st November at the Giltrap Audi showrooms, 150 Great North Road, Auckland. If you cannot attend please just call Gow Langsford Gallery 09 3034290 and place an absentee bid or book a phone bid.

About Māpura Studios

Index>>

Māpura Studios is an inclusive creative art space working with a wide range of artists from all over the Greater Auckland area. Mapura provides art and art therapy programmes for people with diverse and often complex needs and disabilities. For many their art is their voice and enables them to express themselves and to connect and share with others.

Many of the people coming to Mapura have experienced adversity, stroke, brain damage or other life changing events. Engaging in the creative process or in art therapy, allows them to re-engage with community and to re-build their lives, their self-confidence and a sense of well-being.

We are committed to enabling and empowering our artists and we are passionate about what we do, believing that creativity changes lives.

The Last Word

I am writing this in my capacity as President of The Rotary Club of Epsom. Mapura Studios serves a very important role in our community. They work with people that have suffered a debilitating attack on normality and work to build confidence, strength and hope.

This project commenced at the end of 2018 with a meeting between Diana McPherson and Brian Barnett from Mapura and The Rotary Clubs of Epsom and Mt Eden. We needed to raise money to enable Mapura to continue to help those less fortunate than us. We secured the services of John Gow from Gow Langsford Gallery who inspired us to reach for the stars. John has worked tirelessly behind the scenes cajoling artists, compiling this brochure, coordinating the infrastructure that is required to put on an event of this size. Thank you John.

Our next task was to find a venue. Pene Hemus from Giltrap Audi met our challenge and has allowed us to run our Art Auction from the Audi showroom in Great North Road, a wonderful space that exudes style and panache. Pene has been more than helpful and always positive putting up with our numerous emails and visits.

To Peek Display, Empire Electrical and Eden Catering, thank you for stepping up to the plate when I put the call out for assistance. Your help and generosity will not go unnoticed. To Bluestar Printing – thank you. Every Art Event needs a quality brochure to sell the show – you have come through with a great product.

Our Auctioneer on the night will be Ben Plumbly of Art and Object who better to help make a difference - Thank you Ben. And to all the people behind the scenes that I have not mentioned but know who you are: Thank you, Thank you.

To recap, we could not have got out of the starters hands if not for John Gow. Thank you John for listening and committing Gow Langsford Gallery to Mapura as your charity of choice for 2019.

To the people perusing this Art Collection, I implore you to come to this Auction – your actions will change lives.

Yours sincerely

Craig Jones
